

Omer Netzer Boilerplate and Quotes

Boilerplate:

With piercing blue eyes, artful tattoos, and a voice full of grit and soul, Omer Netzer is redefining country music on a global scale. Born in Nahariya, a coastal town in northern Israel, he grew up in his family's music shop, surrounded by sounds from Johnny Cash to B.B. King. Music became both his passion and lifeline, especially during wartime. His path led him to serve as a combat medic and later as an equine therapist, using horses to help trauma survivors heal. Netzer's debut album, Goodbye Song, produced three Israeli radio hits and launched him across Europe, including performances alongside global stars like Kendrick Lamar and Mumford & Sons. In 2019, he opened for Bon Jovi, which eventually led him to move across the world to Nashville. Since relocating in 2023, signed with White Knuckle Productions, he's become the first artist to represent Israel at CMA Fest, and is working with producer David "Messy" Mescon. His latest single, "Midnight Blue," is a powerful ballad that captures the ache of loss and the quiet beauty of vulnerability, wrapped in the timeless sound of country and blues. Omer Netzer's music doesn't just tell stories, it builds bridges. With grit, gratitude, and a voice full of heart, he's proving the American dream is not only alive, it sings.

Quotes:

"Omer has a rare combination of work ethic & persistence, with the talent to back it all up. His music appeals to a wide range of fans, and the onstage energy makes for a very memorable show." - Ward Guenther, Whiskey Jam

"Omer Netzer's journey is a remarkable fusion of music, resilience, and transformation."
- Music Connection

"“Midnight Blue” is a rich, emotional piece of music that shows how grief and love lets on after love has left the room." - Illustrate Magazine

“Low High' packs more ideas into under three minutes than most artists fit into a whole album and the result is so exhilarating you'll be out of breath just listening to it.” - Holler Country